REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

None of the prior art of record discloses or suggests a transflective LCD device having the combination of the features: a) an inclined region, in which a thickness of the liquid crystal layer varies consecutively between the transmissive display region and the reflective display region, an edge of the inclined region at a transmissive display region side being disposed in a plane region of the reflection layer; b) a second color material layer that is formed in the inclined region and the transmissive display region; and c) a degree of coloration of the second color material layer being higher than that of the first color material layer (which is formed in the reflective region).

Fujimori et al disclose a transflective LCD device having the above feature a and a color material layer of the same degree of coloration with different thickness being formed in the inclined region, the transmissive display region and the reflective display region, not the features b and c.

Ozawa et al disclose a transflective LCD device having the above feature c, not the features a and b.

Murai et al disclose a transflective LCD device having the above feature a, a color material layer with a wide chromaticity region being formed in the transmissive display region, a color material layer with a narrow chromaticity region being formed in the reflective display region, a small gap between the two color layers, not the features b and c.

Art Unit: 2871

Kim discloses a transfective LCD device having the above feature a and a color material layer of the same degree of coloration with different thickness being formed in the inclined region, the transmissive display region and the reflective display region, not the features b and c.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
